I'm always trying to make a change,

Peaceful protest

Speaking up!

We have started our first protest camp in 2021 after the great event of Gargaresh that we have been chased out of our homes and thousands of our friends and brothers and sisters have been arrested and taken to the jails. But we could escape. So all those who could escape, we have gathered in front of the UNHCR headquarter in Tripoli, in Saraj area. So we have decided to at least pass a message to the world that we are suffering here in this country.

The hotline was an idea that was born out of the necessity to provide solidarity, security and advocacy for those who were stranded across Libya.

But today, after three years, this has become a lifeline to the thousands of people in the north african region. Stories are told, information is disseminated, and radical solidarity is carried out. These 150 stories are just an extract of stories that reach out to the hotline every day, since 2021. Behind every story is a person, a face, a daughter, a dream, a homeland, a person longing for security, safety and wellbeing.

“Working on these stories brought me closer to these people, but left me questioning our moral duty towards one another in our society as well as the state’s legal obligation towards the person in need. My aim to bring you these stories is in the spirit that you take part and is an invitation to awaken our consciousness to what is happening beyond borders.”

- David Yambio
